

Andy Macleod	Parent Governor
--------------	-----------------

I am currently a Head of Area at Tameside College and have over fifteen years' experience in education, including direct involvement in Ofsted inspections, funding processes, and school improvement initiatives. I bring a strong understanding of accountability frameworks and strategic planning, supported by a proven ability to analyse complex information and make balanced, evidence-based decisions.

I am an effective communicator with a collaborative leadership style, committed to building strong relationships across teams and stakeholders. I place a high value on inclusion, respect, and consistently high expectations for all students.

Motivated by continuous improvement, I am keen to apply my experience and commitment to strengthen school communities and contribute to sustained success and positive outcomes for all students.
